Random entries if selected, must be raced and count to the race limit.
- 5.4. If there are less than four entries received for a given race, the entries may be placed in the next youngest class and will assume the new time of that event. The decision to combine age classes will be made with the goal of keeping the race day a manageable length, and will rest with the CKC Staff Lead. It is the case that many age classes will already combined in the schedule of events due to the length of the competition.
